CONFEREES WILL SUBMIT RESULTS TO GOVERNMENTS

Meanwhile Bandit Raids Continue; Texas Rancher Murdered

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 12.—Fresh border outrages, another raid and the killing of a Texas rancher by Mexican outlaws, the breaking off of the conferences between Gen. Scott and Carranza and Gen. Obregon, and the report that Carranza is playing politics with the situation, and has been winning popularity and added strength for himself and his de facto government by the slogan, "Mexico for the Mexicans," combined to alarm the administration here last night.

It has been definitely announced that the conferences on the border have been suspended.

A party of Mexican bandits crossed the Rio Grande, about four miles north of the little town, and began attacking civilians and soldiers, guarding the ore terminal, four miles from Boquilla. Although surprised the Americans put up a game fight and after a smart skirmish the bandits fled across to Mexican soil again.

Near Brownsville, at the mouth of the Rio Grande, and closer still to the little border town of Mercedes, Texas, a party of four or five robbers crossed the river and attacked Curtis Bayless, an American farmer, who was at work in his fields. They gave the man no chance for his life, shooting him down from cover.

A party of cavaliers, 30 strong, and a posse of civilians were instantly formed and began the chase of the murderers.

Snipers at Work Again.

El Paso reports that snipers have resumed their work of shooting at American soldiers and teamsters wherever they get a chance. A number of shots were fired at a military automobile carrying messages to Maj. Langhorne and Col. Sibley in the Big Bend country. No damage was done to the car or occupants.

DOROTHY SPRING DENIES ENGAGED TO 'DOC' PEDEN

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., May 12.—Cupid has not been playing fair with Dr. John C. Peden, formerly an interne at the Queen's Hospital, Honolulu. Yesterday Miss Dorothy Spring, daughter of John H. Spring, the Berkeley multi-millionaire contractor and real estate man, denied that she was engaged to him and announced that she was going to marry Lyman Covell, a structural engineer last night.

But just to get even, Cupid played a trick on the young woman in the case as well, for Papa Spring stepped in at the last moment and stopped the marriage of his daughter to Covell.

To reporters Mr. Spring declared that his reason for refusing to permit the marriage is that Covell is a "divorced man and there are other difficulties."

Miss Spring was arrested while in Honolulu, on her way home from the Orient, and charged with manslaughter, in common with Dr. Peden. The car in which the couple was riding knocked down and fatally injured a Mrs. Mary Moore. The case was settled out of court.

DEEDS NOT WORDS WANTED NOW, SAYS ROOSEVELT

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)
OSTER BAY, N. Y., May 12.—"The safety of the country depends upon an immediate, serious and vigorous effort to square our words with deeds, and to secure national rehabilitation in the eyes of the rest of the world."

With these words Col. Roosevelt closed a letter to Edwin Emerson, secretary of the Roosevelt Non-Partisan League, which is working for the nomination and reelection of the former President.

Mr. Roosevelt endorsed the league and thanked the secretary for the support it is giving him.

CONFEREES MAKE HARD FIGHT ON ARMY BILL

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 12.—The army bill conferees are again deadlocked. For several hours yesterday afternoon the fight raged furiously without resulting in any agreement. The leaders in the senate, however, last night expressed the hope that some sort of a compromise may be effected soon, and the measure reported back to the houses within a few days.

Moisture From North Not Real Rain—Hamrick

Koolau Range Forms Clouds and Excessive Condensation at Times, Says Forecaster

This wetness which has been lately drifting over Honolulu from the hills to the north and dampening citizens' clothes and dispositions while the sun is shining is not really rain, but "an excessive condensation of moisture from the clouds," according to the weather man.

Speaking of the puzzling phenomenon, a source of much comment among tourists, Meteorologist Andrew M. Hamrick, chief of the U. S. Weather Bureau's local office has thrown a bushel of light on the situation. He said:

"During the north winds prevailing last week, the moist air from the ocean was blown inland. Striking the north side of the Pail, and the rest of the Koolau range, the air rises up until it reaches an altitude in which the temperature is at the dew point.

"There clouds form. The wind blows these higher yet, and condensation takes place. This has lately been so excessive that large drops have fallen, giving an effect very similar to that of a genuine rain.

"The other morning, when I was taking the regular morning observation from my tower on the roof of the Young building, it was raining hard, but the rain was coming from the north at an angle of 55 degrees, where cumulus clouds formed from this ocean moisture had banked up, driven by the north wind, to a point high above the range.

"It isn't a genuine rain, but an excessive condensation of the clouds. When it is apparently raining hard up in the hills the sky is clear overhead and to the south, and the air is relatively dry down here, showing that conditions are not right for a rain downtown. It's almost as bad

CALLS TO SEE FRIEND AND IS HIMSELF JAILED

When Lau Chong came to the police station one day to inquire about a friend, Yee Cha Kee, he didn't know he would be looked up himself. The friend was given an eight months' sentence yesterday in the police court for vagrancy, but in reality for running an opium den.

Kee was arrested Wednesday with two soldiers in a tenement house on Ala street by Capt. McDuffie's squad. Opium and pipes were found, but the soldiers refused to testify against Kee, saying they brought the outfits with them. The soldiers were handed over to the military authorities.

Shortly before the police court met yesterday Lau Chau came to the jail and unwittingly told that Kee did not own the room or the pipes and merely "cooked" the dream stuff. "Who owns the place?" demanded the captain.

The Chinaman proudly asserted, "Me do."

And behind the bars he went for investigation.

FIRE IN MOVIE THEATER TAKES TERRIBLE TOLL

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)
NORFOLK, Va., May 12.—Twenty-six negro women and children perished in a moving picture theater fire at Wallaceton, Va., yesterday afternoon. The film exploded and the blaze trapped the spectators before they could escape. Many of the dead are believed to have been trampled to death in the panic that followed the explosion. The authorities have ordered an investigation.

Miss Helen Grace Caldwell of the Punahou music department had charge of the program, which was an excellent one, on the subject, "Modern Songs and Orchestra Music."

ROANOKE'S BOAT PICKED UP HAS BODY OF SAILOR

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., May 12.—Although half a dozen ships are scouring the seas for a sign of the lifeboats that left the lost steamer Roanoke, which foundered off the California coast Tuesday, but one has been found. This was sighted late yesterday afternoon by the Yosemite, one of the searching vessels. In it was the corpse of one sailor. But for this sole body the boat was empty save the water that half filled it.

Wireless despatches from the Yosemite indicated that it is believed on board that the body is that of John Dennis, the second officer of the vanished steamer.

TO MAKE CITY SPOTLESS TOWN $6000 MONTHLY

Offer is Made to Keep Streets Clean for Less Than Automobile Tax

An opportunity awaits the city of Honolulu to have its streets kept in perfect condition for the modest sum of $6000 a month.

If such an offer was accepted it might mean the abolition of the road department, but nevertheless the proposition has been made.

The person extending the proposition is a local contractor, who confided his scheme to a local government official. The latter gave out the "story" yesterday.

This contractor, whose name is withheld by the official, argues that the taxes on automobiles in Honolulu, at the rate of 1 cent a pound, amounts to about $72,000 a year, or $6000 a month.

He told the official that if this money was paid to him he would guarantee to keep every street, road, alley and lane in Honolulu "surfaced and passable."

But whether this would include the abolition of "bumps" and "trenches," such as formed the subject of recent lively communications in the local press, the contractor sayeth not—according to the official.

JAPANESE BANK TO OPEN BRANCH IN HONOLULU

TOKIO, Japan, May 12.—According to announcements made here yesterday the Dai Hyaku Ginko, or One Hundred Bank, is planning to establish a branch at Honolulu. The Dai Hyaku has a capital of $5,000,000, one-half of which is paid up. Its president is Kenzo Ikeda, the well-known banking authority.

SCHOOLS NOW IN FINE CONDITION KINNEY STATES

Annual Meeting of Commissioners Probably Will Be Held on May 29

"Hawaii's public schools were never in better condition than they are today," declared Henry W. Kinney, superintendent of public instruction, while commenting today on the work to come before the annual meeting of the school commissioners, which probably will be held on May 29.

Giving the reasons for his statement, Mr. Kinney said that the returns from all the large schools in the territory, which are now being received, show that they will start the 1916-17 term with practically the same staffs. Very few teachers will leave the department at the close of the present term, he says, and to date only 40 teachers have applied for transfers.

Only a few mainland teachers will be appointed to local positions next year, according to present indications. The local supply is sufficient to meet the department's needs.

"After all," Superintendent Kinney concludes, "the Hawaiian-trained teachers give the department the greatest satisfaction."

The public schools will close for the summer vacation on June 23. The summer school will open about July 7 and continue for 20 school days. It is expected that at least 150 persons will attend the summer school this year.

LEWIS, DESPERADO, IS BELIEVED TO BE AGAIN IN SERIOUS TROUBLE

Has Herman Lewis, colored, who recently was sentenced to 20 years in Leavenworth, Kansas, penitentiary by the local military authorities for highway robbery, larceny and desertion, got into further trouble?

That he has is inferred in a memorandum received by District Attorney Horace Vaughan yesterday from District Atty. Robinson, of Kansas City, Mo. Robinson requests that copies of the indictment, judgment and sentence in the Lewis case be forwarded to him at once.

Lewis was convicted by court-martial in June, 1914, and sent to Leavenworth. It is understood that he made one escape from the penitentiary, but was captured and again placed in confinement. The local authorities are inclined to believe that he has either escaped again, or has committed some crime which will result in his trial.

SEEKS RELATIVES OF MANUEL YEO, DECEASED

Who in Honolulu or the Hawaiian Islands is a relative of Manuel Yeo? That is the question which Secretary of the Territory Wade Warren Thayer is attempting to get answered, and so far but one person, George C. Yeo of the Oahu Railway and Land Company has helped him out.

Manuel Yeo, according to a letter that has just been received from R. P. Skinner, consul-general of the United States at London, died on the British hospital ship Swanley at the island of Mudros, December 7, 1915. He claimed to have been born in Honolulu and to be 38 years of age. He left in personal effects money to the amount of 22 pounds and 10 pence.

George Yeo has written to Secretary Thayer that he never knew the deceased personally, but has heard that he had a relative somewhere of that name.

NEW SECRET CODE BOOK FOR JAPANESE NAVY

(Special Cable to Hawaii Shiping.)
TOKIO, Japan, May 12.—The navy department has decided to issue a brand new secret code book to the service, according to the local newspapers. This action has been decided upon following the loss of the code belonging to the cruiser Tokiwa, which was discovered on her arrival at Yokohama from Honolulu. Investigation failed to disclose the thief. Capt. N. Shirishi, who was responsible for the safety of the code book, will be dismissed from the service.

This is the second announcement made that a Japanese bank would open a branch in Honolulu, the first bank to announce being one of the strong financial institutions of Osaka. The Yokohama Specie Bank branch is the only Japanese bank represented in Honolulu at present.

JUDGE FINDS INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL WELL CONDUCTED

That the boys' industrial school at Waialeale is in excellent shape is the opinion of Circuit Judge W. L. Whitney, who visited the school last Monday. He says that the administration has improved under the superintendency of Frederick Anderson, and that during his visit the boys were scattered from Waimea to Waialeale without guards, but that they all returned to the school at the appointed time. "One thing which pleases the boys is the light work in the taro patches," says Judge Whitney. "I also noticed a great improvement in the quality and variety of the food."

TAFT PROTESTS BRITAIN VIOLATES GENEVA TREATY

Allies' Ban on Red Cross Supplies May Be Subject of Another Note

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 12.—The United States government is preparing to file a protest against the British policy of refusing to permit the shipment of Red Cross supplies into Germany.

Former President Taft, vice-president of the American Red Cross, has written to Secretary of State Lansing urging immediate action. He claims that Great Britain is violating the Geneva convention and adds that he hopes the British government is basing its action upon the erroneous belief that Germany has failed to respond to a reciprocal course.

This idea, should it prove that London authorities are holding it, is a mistake, as Germany agreed to such a plan last October.

AMERICA WILL HELP FEED STARVING POLES.

LONDON, Eng., May 12.—The British government yesterday announced that the country will accept the offer that has been made by the American War Relief Society to feed the stricken and starving people of Poland, with certain conditions. It is stipulated that the commission shall confine its attention to all sections of the country and not only that portion that is occupied by the Germans.

McNamara, parliamentary secretary to the admiralty, announced in the house of commons that during the year ending May 7 the British merchant marine has lost 37 merchantmen, torpedoed by the enemy, and that 22 neutrals have been sent to the bottom without warning.

Damage estimated at $1,000,000 was done when the Scheldt dike broke near Quatrecht, a few miles east of Ghent.
